

COMPETITIVE ADVANTAGE

Management is often lacking the rigorous frameworks, methodologies, and tools used in other disciplines.

Organizations often accept this status quo as normal without realizing it could be dramatically improved. in³ clients experience great results because they deliver on the promise of 'A' players. These players perform 50% better than their peers. In sales and technology, these players perform 100% to 1200% better than average.

IN³'S SYSTEMS ENSURE PEOPLE ARE:

Accountable by creating job profiles to identify responsibilities and prioritize accountability areas. We provide software to set, measure, and reward goal achievement, as well as automate the linkage between accountability design and other organization issues.

Capable by setting organization and job capability standards. Our software identifies job candidate talent depth and gaps while mapping capability at a macro, not granular, level for better management decision making.

Motivated by identifying company values and culture to solve problems and guide decision making. in³ provides software to select and promote talent motivated by company values and culture.
